CREW WORKING AT DIADEM MINE

A truck load of machinery including pump, blower, blower pipe, rail, etc., passed through Nevada City Saturday on the way to the Diadem mine at Forest.

The old shaft has been cleaned out and retimbered to the water level at which point the old timbers, standing under water nearly thirty years were found to be in wonderful condition.

Pumping out the mine will begin this week under the supervision of Whitman Symmes to determine whether or not the old stories of the rich ore in the Diadem were truth or fiction.

The Diadem mine was purchased by the Shamrock Gold Mines company from the Harper Estate and Tod Sloan the famous jockey. Tod broke into print recently upon being arrested for acting as judge at some turtle races in Hollywood. Hollywood decided that all the glory of turtle races could not go to Angels Camp, but police decided otherwise. They said that Hollywood had a speed limit and that no four legged mud turtle could take the Klieg lights from the two legged speed burners of that neck of the woods.

REOPENING OF OLD MINE NEAR GRANITEVILLE

Ore running from $60.00 to $100.00 per ton is the showing made by the old "Jim" mine located about three and a half miles south of Graniteville on Little Canyon Creek, according to J. W. Stockweather who has charge of operations at the present time and dropped into town Thursday for supplies.

With Los Angeles capital behind it the old "Jim" mine will soon be producing. A crew of six men are busy installing machinery which has already been delivered and more coming in every day.

The tunnel has been driven in about 310 feet, with a total of 1100 feet to go to tap a ledge about 15 feet wide and the men on the job are pushing the work with all possible speed.

The lure of the gold will always be the spur to action as long as gold is the principal mineral product and that is what makes this town "the best little city on the Mother Lode." More power to the boys who with undying faith toil and sweat but never give up and our hope is that they strike it rich.

This proposition is being operated on a co-operative basis which means that all will share equally in the profits.

L A MONIS DIES AS RESULT OF AUTO WRECK

A .L. Monis, an employee of the Lang Construction Co., died at Auburn Tuesday at the result of injuries sustained when his car missed the approach to the Bear River bridge early Monday night.

Monis was accompanied by Ted R. Plain who received minor injuries. The car plunged to the bottom of the canyon and was a complee wreck. This is the first fatality on the new Colfax highway.

H B JONES CHARGED FIRST DEGREE MURDER

H. B. Jones, who has resided near Grass Valley for a number of years, is in the county jail at Nevada City, charged with first degree murder.

Jones was returned to the county jail Monday night, after he had failed to testify before a coroner's jury. He was arrested in connection with the death of his wife, Mrs. Maggie M. Jones, aged 50., who died at the county hospital August 27th.

The verdict of the coroner's jury was that "Maggie M. Jones, aged 50 years, had come to her death on August 27 at the Nevada county hospitl from peritonitis resulting from shotgun wounds in the intestines inflicted by her husband, Harry B. Jones, on August 22, 1932."

BONES OF MAN FOUND IN HIGH MOUNTAINS

The bleaching bones of a man were found in the high Sierra by August Antman, a sheepherder, a few days ago. A 38-calibre pistol nearby with one exploded shell in the chamber and a bullet hole in the skull lead officers to believe that the man was a suicide.

Sheriff Carter has made an investigation and on his return Tuesday evening stated that everything pointed to suicide.

In trying to establish the identity of the man officers have only three faint clues on which to work. The initials "J. C." stamped on the revolver, the serial number of the gun and a copy of the Reno Gazette bearing a date line of Saturday, July 18th.

Sheriff Carter has taken the remains to Truckee where they are in care of Deputy Coroner Chas. A. Ocker.

MINERS MUTUAL CO TO HANDLE INSURANCE

E. R. McClelland, manager of the Miners Limited Mutual Compensation Insurance company of California, has been in the Placer county gold fields during the past week making a survey of the mines and introducing his company to mine operators, founded by A. M. Brown & Sons, 200 Bush street, San Francisco, it comes into the field at a time when most needed. Many operators of late have been hesitating at starting work due to the excessive cost of compensation insurance, the rate now being 11% of the payroll.

Mr. McClelland states that the new company will be owned and controlled by mining interests, a mutual organization. He estimates that a saving in insurance costs of from 40 to 60% will be affected, the rate running around $6. Already a two and a half million dollar payroll has been signed, the largest mining interests in the state insuring with the Miners Mutual. Mr. McClelland will make a complete survey of the entire Mother Lode district.

He will be in the Nevada county section within a short time and expects to visit the mine owners and interest them in the new insurance company rates.

P T A ASKS FOR DONATIONS OF CLOTHING

The local Parent Teachers' Association child welfare department has sent out a call for clothing for destitute children of Nevada City and surrounding territory. Donations will be thankfully received and it is requested that persons having any may leave them at the Nevada City Chamber of Commerce or phone Mrs. Will Young, 116 Nevada City, or Mrs. W. E. Perry, 211R Nevada City.

Mrs. Young has prepared a room where the clothes will be sorted, put in condition and classified. It is felt that there will be need of this service during the approach of cold weather..

Judge Raglan Tuttle

Judge Raglan Tuttle received a majority of 345 votes which means that he is reelected. The contest for superior judge was the center of interest locally and Judge Tuttle's friends congratulate him on his victory.

SIERRA CO ASSURED TWO MONTHS ROAD WORK

Frank and Harry Goudge, and County Clerk R. N. McCormack. They presented the request to continue the road work between Indian Valley and Goodyears Bar. The sum of $12,000 is sufficient to keep the crew of men employed another two months.

Both men have been unemployed for some time and had decided to try their hand at prospecting. Their reward came with the finding of the pocket.

The property is owned by Charles Crespi of Angels Camp and Mrs. S. A. Airola of Altaville.

NEON SIGN INSTALLED

The Hartung jewelry store in Grass Valley is a firm believer in advertising. The latest being the installation of a neat Neon sign just outside the business entrance. Immediately above the sign which is outlined in red is a large clock which gives at all times the correct time. It is a very attractive combination.

BUTTE COUNTY MINES SHOW MUCH ACTIVITY

J. F. Sullivan of San Francisco who is part owner of the Cherokee mine near Oroville visited the mine recently and announced that considerable machinery will be installed at the mine before active operations start.

Six miles north of Oroville at the Banner mine a number of changes in equipment are being made. It was found that the original apparatus which was recently installed, was not saving the precious yellow metal. Los Angeles men took over the Banner mine last year. It has a good record as a past producer. The new owners have installed a ten stamp mill.

Three eight hour shifts were put on at the aerial dredge north of the boundary of Oroville a few days ago. The dredge is taking sand and gravel from the bed of the Feather river. Results of the cleanups have not been announced but the owners sate that they are satisfied with the results obtained.

E. I. West is superintendent of the plant, and has had experience with this sort of equipment in Alaska and a number of other mining fields.

The California Treasure Box, a mining corporation headed by W. L. Leland, president and general manager, is making another attempt to tap the famous Mammoth Channel.

The tunnel will start on the east side of Butte Creek about a mile above the Centerville schoolhouse on the old Cannon ranch. The tunnel will be 68 by 72 inches, paralleling the Mammoth Channel from beneath for 2,000 feet, rising to the channel itself, which Leland stated he had located to his satisfaction.

Neal B. Navarre of Berkeley and K. B. Carpy of Sacramento are operating the Bootjack mine near Forbestown on a lease and have just recently installed a ball mill on the property. They visited Enterprise recently to inspect a concentrator at the Florence mine, which they purchased.

At the Morning Star mine, on Soapstone Hill, in Plumas county, a promising strike of gold bearing ore has been made. Chief of Police J. O. McAltee of Oroville and George Sparks, mining men, are operating the mine. Bert Clark of Oroville is in charge of operations. Several mining claims on Soapstone Hill are held by McAltee and his two sons.

A woman prospector in Butte county, near Oroville recently found a gold nugget valued at $260. Ching Wing Lee, a gold buyer of that city purchased the nugget from the unidentified woman.

According to State Mineralogist W. W. Bradley the Chinese has purchased $7,000 worth of gold from prospectors in Butte county this year.

Last year the largest nugget reported found by prospectors was valued at $114. A nugget worth $80 is said to have been picked up the other day in Placer county but a report on it has not yet come to the state mining office.

ANNUAL FLOWER SHOW TO BE HELD SEP 7TH

The Womens' Improvement Club of Nevada City have set September seventh as the date for their annual flower show. In order to give adequate room for display purposes it will be held in Red Mens' hall on Broad street.

The flower show this year will be in the nature of a memorial to Felix Gillett, whose life work was the bringing of the prune and English walnut to California.

Grass Valley, Chicago Park and the surrounding districts will be invited to participate in showing what the foothills can produce. With the additional space house plants, fruits and vegetables will be given display room.

C. E. Parsons, owner of Barren Hill nursery, will deliver an address on the life work of Felix Gillett, the noted nut grower.

A portion of the proceeds from the small admission fee will be used to provide a memorial to Mr. Gillett who was buried in the old cemetery on West Broad street.

This is one of the most important events of the fall season and eagerly looked forward to by flower locers.

HOGE MILL WILL RUN NEXT WEEK

Arthur W. Hoge, the president and principal stockholder of the Hoge Development company, has authorized us to make the following statements in reference to their operations and properties:

He states that within a period of one week they will have their new mill all completed and in operation; also that it will, be the most modern and up to date oil flotation mill in the camp today, from the standpoint of economy and efficiency.

The mill was designed and installed by Otto E. Schiffner, the company's general manager, and is so designed and constructed that the capacity of the same can be increased from 50 tons per day, up to 100 tons per day, at an expense of not over five or six thousand dollars.

During the next six months he states that they are going to carry on considerable development work, and will probably later on give out some leases, in addition to carrying on their regular program of mining and milling.

Three different levels have been opened up in virgin territory that has shown exceptionally good averages gross values, from their actual mill and smelter shipments to the extent of over 7,000 tons of mine run ore. The average gross value was in excess of $20.00 per ton, and the net concentrate recovery, of the ore milled at the Murchie mill, was approximately 90% of the gross value. The tailing losses were higher than the Hoge Company had anticipated or expected, and they fully expect to make a much higher recovery in their own mill.

The Empire-Star company, who were interested in the Hoge Development company were paid off in full through the milling that was done at the Murchie mill, and the Hoge Company now have a full 100% ownership in all of their vast holdings, which embraces a territory of over two square miles.

The Hoge mine is one of the best equipped mines in the camp today, and with their main three compartment shaft down to a depth of 642 feet, and with three levels opened up in good mill grade ore, they have with their exceptionally large acreage, a most promising future for becoming one of the outstanding producers of this famous old camp.

BROCK RILEY RANCH LEASED TO G R BOGGS

Henry C. Snyder has given a lease and bond on two properties known as the Brock Riley ranch below Grass Valley that practically adjoins the famous Allison ranch on the west, to G. R. Boggs.

Papers were recorded last week, at the Court House on the deal, and we were informed that work is to start at once.

This property is located in one of the richest sections of Nevada county, where vast sums of gold were taken from practically surface workings. This property should start yielding returns almost from the grass roots if it holds up to the reputation of the Allison ranch.

YELLOW METAL MINE

Henry O'Neill Albert D. Keller and John K. William were down from the Yellow Metal mine at Lake Spaulding were in Nevada City Tuesday..

The Yellow Metal is situated on the south shore of Lake Bowman, major storage unit of the Nevada Irrigation District, and is reached only by boats across the mile wide lake.

Albert Keller, owner, of the mine took out considerable ore 23 years ago running $1,400 per ton.

The mine has again come into public attention by reason of the strike of a kidney of high grade ore similar to that which made the mine noted many years ago.

Mr. Clemons, who is connected with R. L. Colburn, mining brokers of San Francisco ,paid this office a nice visit Tuesday of this week. We call your attention to an adv. on page 3. Look it over you Mining Men.

OUR SLOGAN

The Nevada City Nugget is "published in the best little city on the Mother Lode." That's our new slogan. How do you like it? And we are going to use this slogan whenever and wherever we can.

Boosting is sometimes overdone. Misrepresentation never does any good. But the advantages of Nevada City as a place to live, a place to enjoy life, are so apparent that it is easy to boost and without exaggeration.

Nevada county has long been known as a producer of gold —it is just becoming known to the outside world as an ideal place to live. Many people are living in Nevada City as a matter of building up their health. And where it is possible to find health and make a living at the same time you have the combination that spells happiness in this troubled world.

And we believe we're right when we say: "The best little city on the Mother Lode."

The primary election has clarified the atmosphere and now we can begin to think of the November election. National politics will play a more important part from now on.

The results of the election, while disappointing to defeated candidates are, we believe, generally satisfactory. The reelection of Judge Raglan Tuttle is particularly gratifying to his friends who point to his splendid record on the bench and the fact that he has identified himself with the civic and community life of Nevada City.

GOLD HILL MINE HAS PAST PRODUCTION RECORD

The Gold Hill mine, comprising 20 acres, owned by Mrs. S. A. Airola of Altaville and Charles Creppi of Angels, brought back into prominence by the recent "strike" made by Harold Browner and H. O. Henley recently when they unearthed a pocket within 70 feet of the surface, which after being cleaned up from less than 500 pounds of earth amounted to more than $5,000 is another of Calaveras properties upon which the "surface has merely been scratched."

This property was discovered and mined by Mexicans in 1851, who returned to Mexico laden with riches obtained from the claim. The claim later fell into the hands of Mat Tippican and Sam Barringer, who, after taking out $16,000 sold the claim to George W. Osborne in 1871. Mr. Osborne and son, W. D. Osborne, who worked the claim for several years, received in excess of $100,000 for their labor. They then sold the property to Messrs. Norris, Abbott, Truex and Brown of Chicago, who financed the Gold Hill Mining company. The company mined this claim quite successfully for a number of years. Up to this time the mining was all done at practically "grass roots." C. S. Wolff, superintendent of the company, was convinced that the greater values would be found deeper. Mr. Norris, who held controlling interest in the company differed with the decision reached by Wolff. Owing to dissension arising from these two conflicting reports, Norris ordered the mine closed. The property was then acquired by the present owners.

Gold Hill, which lies on the west belt, is located one and three quarters miles from Angels Camp on the Copperopolis road and is credited with yielding in excess of $500,000, from surface to 300 feet, this being the greatest depth reached on the property.

In an interview, W. D. Osborne stated that in his opinion the greatest values would be found in depth. He further stated that at the 200 foot level milling ore assayed at $2.00 per ton, while at the 300 foot level the ore increased to $3.00 per ton in gold.

HIGH RATES CHARGED ON MINE INSURANCE

Discussion of the high rates charged for compensation insurance on mining enterprises has reached the point where a thorough investigation of the management of the State Compensation Insurance Fund should be ordered by the Governor.

Governmental agencies are presumed to be at the service of the people who bring them into being, and when they become so autocratic that they refuse to report the details of their operation on demand, it is time to get hard-boiled. America is not supposed to be patterned after Russia or Prussia. Our public employees, feeding out of the taxpayers' purses, are in theory our servants, not our masters.

The present rate of compensation is patently out of all reason. It becomes even more patent when the Fund officials refuse to submit an explanation.

The Fund is pressingly a fit subject for an immediate and thorough investigation.—Feather River Bulletin.

PARAMOUNT GD MG CORP DRIVING 500 FOOT TUNNEL

The Paramount Gold Mines Corporation is driving a 500 foot tunnel at the Redstone mine near Blue Canyon.

The vein is thirty feet wide and the new tunnel is designed to cut the ore body approximately 1,000 feet below the old workings.

There is a 10 stamp mill on the property and this will be moved to a point below the portal of the new workings before operations start.

Conrad Centennial

At the Conrad Centennial group on Duncan Hill, west of Auburn, the Paramount Gold Mines is running the new sevent-ton mill with one shift Ore is coming from the Conrad vein on the 300 foot level, and a 150 foot cross-cut is being extended from this level to the Centennial ledge.

E. C. Klinker of Colfax is president of the company.

Ferrier Gold Placers

Vigorous development of the Ferrier gold placers near Forest Hill is to be undertaken shortly by Esther Ericson and Ruth Thornburgh of Berkeley, recent purchasers of the property, according to information received by Auburn mining men. The property lies in the Todd Valley district and is credited with yielding considerable gold. Large areas of virgin ground invite development.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Ghidotti returned from a vacation spent in the bay region.

50 STAMPS DROPPING AT YELLOW ASTER MINE

Forty leasers are busily engaged in working good ore on the Yellow Aster hill. Fifty stamps are running night and day, on a three shift basis, ten of the stamps dropping on the leasers output. Thirty miners and mill men are on the company payroll.

Leasers on the King Solomon, Big Butte and Windy mines, having their ore ores milled in the respective companies mills, can and do get by with fair milling ore. Leasers on the Black Hawk mine, being convenient to the Black Hawk mill, do not have to move their product far from the workings to the mill. One lease is connected with the mill by a well laid track. Milling charges at the Black Hawk is the same as the other custom work, $6.00 per ton.

THE CALIFORNIA DEBRIS Commission will hold a public hearing at 11:00 A. M., September 20, 1932, at the California Debris Commission office, 10th Floor, Calif. Fruit Bldg., 4th & J sts., Sacramento, California, to receive protests against granting the application of Max A. Pokorney to mine by the hydraulic process the Brush Creek Placer Mine, located near Forest, Sierra County, draining into Oregon Creek, thence into the Middle Yuba River and to store tailings on flats just below the mine.

Youthful Strength

Dr. Magnus Hirschfeld, the world-known authority on Sexology and Director of the Institute for Sexual Science of Berlin, Germany, created to help the million of men and women who have lost or are losing their vital physical power. In his 25 years of practice and research, however, he realized that the weakening of man's glands was also responsible for other troubles: High blood pressure, hardening of the arteries, physical exhaustion after work or exercise, dizziness, depression, neurasthenia, etc.

All these troubles can be removed with Titus-Pearls. Numerous cases were treated by Dr. Hirschfeld in his Berlin Institute.

L. S. (State Official; 60 years old, married) complained of physical exhaustion, dizziness and tremors. Was easily tired. Mental powers dull and slow moving. Physical powers had been incomplete for previous 5 years. Blood pressure too high. Given 2 Titus-Pearls 3 times a day. 2 tweeks later the medical report on this man was: General health better, more vigor; dizziness much less and returning of power. Treatment continued and 2 weeks later L. S. reported again, this time to say that all wearinesse and exhaustion had gone; he felt fresh and buoyant. His blood pressure had fallen, and at 60 years of age he had regained the physical power and virility that he had known in the prime of life.

Start regaining your youthfulness now! To-day! In 2 weeks' time you will be aware of the new, virile force within you. Send $5.00 (cash registered or money-order) for 2 weeks' treatment.

VACATION TRAVEL STILL HOLDS TO HIGH LEVEL

Recreational travel in the United States this year has remained at a level which indicates that there are still many people who have the time and money for vacation trips. Figures received by the California State Automobile Association from the American Automobile Association, with which the state organization is affiliated, show that vacation motor travel is holding up exceptionally well and is off only about fifteen per cent as compared with last year.

Based upon reports from A. A. A. motor clubs at key points in areas of heavy summer travel, as well as information from a variety of other official and private sources, the figures are declared to indicate that recreational travel expenditures for 1932 in the United States will be in excess of two billion dollars.

Although the travel decline has been heaviest in playground areas that are most dependent upon motorists from distant points for their patronage, this has been largely offset by increased travel to objectives adjacent to large centers of population, according to a statement analyzing the reports. In other words, car owners appear to be practicing economy by shorter vacation trips and patronizing playplaces and resorts nearer to their homes. This assumption is borne out by figures from widely scattered sections of the country. An analysis of calls for touring services at the various A. A. A. clubs also supports the declaration that car owners are remaining closer to home during their vacation periods.

Travel to Europe and Canada has declined slightly. The number of passports issued for trips abroad during the period from January to May this year decreased 7.9 per cent as compared with the same period last year. Travel across the Canadian border continues heavy, although there has been a decline of about seven per cent from last year's figures. Weather conditions throughout the country had an unfavorable effect on travel. Cool weather prevailed well into June. This was especially true in the west, where snow and ice was found in the national parks even after the dates for the beginning of the usual flow of summer travel. This factor is expected to result in heavier travel in the fall months.

SEVERAL MINES WORKING NEAR FOREST HILL DIVIDE

The old Paragon gravel mine at Bath in Placer county, that has lain idle for many years and formerly operated by Abraham Breece and Judson Wheeler, is being reopened as a quartz mine with George Buell of Sacramento as superintendent.

A new stamp mill was installed recently near the site of the old buildings many of which have fallen into decay.

The quartz ledge which the new owners are working was uncovered in an old drift tunnel remaining from the days when the Paragon was one of the leading hydraulic mines on the Forest Hill Divide.

The mine was first worked when a tunnel three quarters of a mile in length was opened into the mountain, under a superincumbent mass of gravel about 450 ft. in depth. In 1870, a shaft was raised and sunk through the overlying earth, for the purpose of ventilation, striking the underground workings at a point 3,500 feet from the mouth of the working tunnel.

In all this tunnel work, the early day miners passed through a considerable mass of quartz, which they did not consider worth working, because of the ease with which gold was extracted from the gravel. The new management claims to be finding values in this quartz through which the early day miners dug their tunnels.

After Breece and Wheeler operated the mine, it was for five years operated by Joe and Allie Hoffman, who it is claimed took about $500,000 from the property in five years of hydraulic mining. The law put an end to their operations.

After thirty years of mining in other parts of the world, the brothers are back at Bath, working with Buell in this new venture.

An early day's history states Breece and Wheeler were taking an average of $13,000 a week out of the mine in 1881.

It is stated from reliable sources that the new venture is being financed principally by Sacramento capital, and that several members of the police department in Sacramento are interested in the mining venture.

Bath is now one of the ghost cities of the Forest Hill divide. It was first called Sarahsville, in honor of the first woman to live in the mining camps there. The gallant pioneers considered the place honored by bearing her name. The general region had been called Volcano previously.

The name was changed to Bath in 1859, and a post office was established. The place is situated two miles north of the Middle Fork of the American river, and about the same distance northeast of Forest Hill.

YUBA RIVER COUNTRY

Once each day the mail stage of Frank Davies reaches Alleghany. The passengers on his automobile stages are treated to a most amazingly scenic trip together with U. S. mail and freight they are carried far down into the bottom of the canyon of the Middle Yuba river and back out on the other side over that peer of all spectacular highways—The Foote's Crossing road. During the open seasons of the year these stages travel the entire distance from Nevada City through North Columbia to Alleghany and Forest City. During the winters sleds and sometimes snowshoes are used in the higher elevations of Sierra county. But day after day and year after year, Davies and his men put through the mail regardless of weather or road conditions. Vast thunderheads, black and threatening, may pile up a deluge of rain; storms may break down monarchs of the forest to block the road; for days snow may fall with a gentle hiss as it softly settles down among the branches, lulling the unwary traveler into a feeling of false security until suddenly he finds all landmarks erased by the white blanket—the road hidden and progress without skiis or snow shoes impossible. Nearly every winter the snow brings tragedies. Men who do not understand the ways of the mountains see the beauty of the fresh snows that weigh down the fir branches, smooth out the ravines, and cover those mountains with a sparkling gradeur—but fail to read the warning of the great isolated spaces, the yawning impassible canyons, the impenetrable forests, the awesome silence! Thus is the stage set for the ever rerecurring drama: "He is reported to have left Forest for the Old Colony mine just off the Henness Pass road. He has not arrived and searching parties have been sent out to seek him." Subsequent days go by without news and the incident is all but forgotten until the following spring when word comes through that some prospector has come upon a man's body exposed to the thawing snows. But the mail! Of course, the mail goes through! And for years it has been going through. Before Frank Davies took over the mail contracts and the responsibility, it was his father who on top of his horse drawn stages entered Alleghany and Forest for many years and heard the greeting ring out across the canyons—"Mail's in!"

The dashing horses are gone and no more is heard the rumble of the iron tires on the rocky roads—but the watering troughs remain where sweating horses and perspiring men were wont to pause on their way up the heartbreaking mountain grades. The wooden troughs are falling apart with decay—but the pipes still bring a steady stream of cold sparkling mountain water to the spot where tin cans now do service in replenishing the water supply of steaming radiators. And the former dawn to dusk trip is now a matter of but several hours as the stages come down the mountains and return to them again after hours spent in Nevada City. As stage time approaches in Alleghany, men and women and children commence to congregate at Ray Hawkin's store, where the post office is located Groceries and supplies are purchased—and the hum of voices are heard from the several groups standing about. With a startling suddeness the rubber tired stage comes gliding around the turn and stops at the door. Mail pouches containing letters, mail sacks bearing papers and parcel post, other parcel post packages consisting of tires, cases, rolls, crates—a vast assortment—are packed into the post office for quick distribution. The line begins to form. A man walks away with a crate or box, a woman gets her package, a young single man who happens to be on night shift at the Sixteen-to-One gold mine turns away disappointedly perhaps homesick because of the failure of the hoped for letter to come through on today's stage.

Meanwhile, the stage has finished unloading passengers, mail and freight for Alleghany; a new passenger and additional mail is taken on for the final destination, Forest City; the stage is turned and is once more on its way. For a short distance it retraces and then branches off to the right. Steeply climbing it starts for the top of the ridge that lies between Alleghany and Forest. Rapidly it gains elevation until at the top it is a mile above sealevel. There the Henness Pass road is crossed and it comes up from Marysville and Grass Valley-Nevada City in the west and crosses the summit at Henness Pass to the east.

How your "few dollars" can help all CALIFORNIA

"What can be accomplished with my few dollars?" you may ask. EVERYTHING! Without the "few" dollars of the individual, business and industry would come to a standstill . . . Every ship that pulls out of a California port laden with cargo, as well as every freight car, auto truck and airplane—every building or home that is erected—every business and industry—every public improvement—is dependent upon the "few" dollars of the individual for its accomplishment and success . . . Banks are the established channels through which this money flows—out to finance industry—back to benefit the individual . . . In a radio talk over the National Broadcasting System, Dr. A. H. Giannini said in part: "Bank of America participates wholly or in part in practically every activity in California . . . and is contributing its share toward the production of new wealth for our state."

THIS BANK pays interest on savings accounts equal to the most favorable rate paid by any bank in this city doing a comparable savings business.
